

UPDIKE IN TUCSON
7th Biennial John Updike Society Conference
Tucson, Arizona, Sept. 20-24, 2023

Celebrating the 60th and 30th anniversaries of
The Centaur* and *Collected Poems

Keynote speaker: Arizona Poet Laureate Alberto Ríos

Conference directors: Robert Luscher and Jan Emery

Venues: Pima Community College, Skyline Country Club, Embassy Suites Tucson Paloma Village

Ríos co-sponsor: Pima Community College Foundation

Conference Highlights

—Tour of the “casitas” (pictured) that John and Martha Updike owned and lived in several months annually over the course of five years, located a short walk from the Skyline Country Club where Updike golfed and the couple dined. Updike wrote about the casitas in “A Desert Encounter.”

—Keynote talk/reading by ASU endowed chair and Arizona Poet Laureate Alberto Ríos, who has won numerous awards, including the Walt Whitman Prize for Poetry. Books will be available for purchase and signing.

—A trip to the world-renowned Arizona-Sonora Desert Museum: a 98-acre hybrid zoo, natural history museum, and botanical garden. The only place where the iconic Saguaro cactus grows, the Sonoran Desert is the most bio-diverse ecosystem on Earth.

—Optional day trip to the Old West town of Tombstone, site of the famous gunfight at the O.K. Corral and Boot Hill (pictured). Tombstone has two churches, a city hall, courthouse, and historic district that are listed on the National Registry of Historic Places, along with fun reenactments, small museums, a saloon that's popular for lunches, small museums, fun reenactments, and upscale shopping.

—Optional half-day trip to visit the underground Titan Missile Museum, last of the 54 Titan II missile sites that were on alert across the U.S. from 1963-87 and the only one open to the public. Former Arizona Gov. Janet Napolitano proclaimed this Cold War museum a national treasure. Must be able to handle 55 stairs. Includes a stop at San Xavier Del Bac Mission (c.1692, pictured on p. 5), a historic, still operational church.

—Optional day on your own at the Univ. of Arizona, David Foster Wallace's alma mater, to explore the world-class Arizona State Museum, one of the oldest archaeological museums in the Southwest, and the Arizona Historical Society Museum, which has a wide range of western artifacts.

—Optional trip to Kartchner Caverns State Park and hikes to Catalina State Park (pictured, p. 1, easy hike) or Black Sheep Cave (moderate, steep ascent) to a cave that has 1000-year-old pictographs.

Keynote Speaker: Alberto Ríos

Alberto Ríos, Arizona's first (and continuing) poet laureate, is the author of thirteen books of poetry, three collections of short stories, and a memoir. The son of a Mexican father from Tapachula, Chiapas, and an English mother from Warrington, Lancashire, Ríos was raised on the American side of the city of Nogales, Arizona, on the Mexican border. He is the recipient of the Arizona Governors Arts Award, fellowships from the Guggenheim Foundation and the National Endowment for the Arts, the Walt Whitman Award, and the Western States Book Award for Fiction. A chancellor of the Academy of American Poets, he resides in Chandler, Arizona.

In the first part of his presentation, Ríos will talk about "What Makes for Good Poetry," using the poems of John Updike and others as illustrations. In the second part, Ríos will read from his own work, with time for questions. Books of his will be available for purchase and signing.

Ríos' collections of poetry include Not Go Away Is My Name (2020); A Small Story About The Sky (2015); The Dangerous Shirt (2009); The Theater of Night (2006), winner of the 2007 PEN/Beyond Margins Award; The Smallest Muscle in the Human Body (2002), a finalist for the National Book Award; and Whispering to Fool the Wind (1982). The Iguana Killer: Twelve Stories of the Heart (1984) is considered a classic of Chicano fiction, while his short story collection Pig Cookies (1995) has been lauded for its magical realism and ability to capture the magic of ordinary life.

Call for Papers (or Panels)

Papers (15-20 min.) and panels (no formal papers, discussion only) on ANY aspect of John Updike's work or life will be considered, but topics that are especially appropriate for this conference include:

—John Updike's poetry. His Collected Poems was published 30 years ago. Updike was serious about poetry and published ten volumes throughout his lifetime. Significantly, his first published books in 1958 were a volume of fiction and a volume of poetry (The Carpentered Hen and Other Tame Creatures), and his last published books in 2009 were a volume of fiction and a volume of poetry (Endpoint and Other Poems).

—The Centaur, which celebrates a 60th anniversary in 2023. The Southwest is known for inspiring artists, and Peter Caldwell is, of course, an artist.

—"A Desert Encounter," in which Updike describes losing a favorite hat in the casita parking lot as he was trimming bushes. Also appropriate are Updike's writings about nature.

—S., Updike's final volume in his Scarlet Letter trilogy, is set in Arizona.

—Comparative papers on David Foster Wallace and Updike. "Penis with a thesaurus" remarks aside, Updike was an influence on Wallace, and their publications and career trajectories pose some interesting possibilities for discussion. Tucson is Wallace country; he attended the Univ. of Arizona.

—Brazil celebrates a 30th anniversary in 2023 and represents one of Updike's attempts to understand a culture other than his own.

SUBMIT PROPOSALS by March 20, 2023 to Robert Luscher (luscherr@unk.edu). The number of presenters may be capped, so if your participation is dependent upon having a paper accepted you should submit your proposal sooner rather than later. Presenters must be members of The John Updike Society or join after their papers have been accepted. Annual dues are $30/year for regular membership and $25/year for students and retirees (<https://blogs.iwu.edu/johnupdikesociety/join/>). Decision notices will be sent within three weeks of your submission, along with registration and lodging information, if your proposal is successful. Moderators are also needed, and volunteers should send an email to Robert Luscher indicating a desire or willingness to do so.

Schiff Travel Grants

Thanks to the generosity of The Robert and Adele Schiff Family Foundation, the John Updike Society will award up to FOUR $1500 travel-to-conference grants for scholars under 40 to be able to attend the Tucson conference. Applicants need not be members at the time, but must join before grants can be paid.

In addition, up to THREE $1000 travel-to-conference grants will be awarded to current society members at any career stage who need assistance to be able to participate in the conference.

Both grants are merit- and need-based, and paid after travel-to-conference has been booked. Interested scholars should apply by Feb. 20, 2023.

To apply, send a one-page proposal for a 15- to 20-minute paper appropriate for the conference, along with one paragraph about yourself, what grant you are applying for, and why the grant is important to you, to society president James Plath (jplath@iwu.edu). The selection committee will make their decisions and announce successful applicants by the end of the last week of January 2023.

Optional Thursday Day Trip for Early Arrivers: Kartchner Caverns State Park Tour—$28

Features 2.4 miles of underground passages, with a tour encompassing one-half mile; takes 1.5 to 1.75 hours to complete, with 50-60 minutes of that underground. Price includes transportation and admission to the Rotunda and Throne Tour. Photos or videos are not permitted.

Friday Day Trip: Tombstone—$43

Features a visit to the Old West town in Cochise County, famous for Wyatt Earp and the O.K. Corral shootout and site of the Guinness sanctioned World's Largest Rose. Includes transportation, admission to O.K. Corral and gunfight show, admission to historic Bird Cage Theatre, and a brief stop at Boot Hill; a historic newspaper office/museum is free, but participants are on their own for other small museums. We may be able to get a group reservation at Big Nose Kate's for lunch, but the cost of lunch is not included. Be advised that many places in Tombstone accept only cash.

For those who don't go to Tombstone: Alternate Friday Day Trip: University of Arizona area of Tucson—$5

Includes transportation only to the UA area, where you will be dropped off to explore on your own. You can elect to visit the Arizona State Museum at UA ($12 admission) or the nearby Arizona Historical Society Museum ($8 admission), or just explore the beautiful AZ campus and nearby shops and eateries. The Arizona State Museum is the oldest and largest anthropological research facility in the Southwest, with expansive collections of indigenous culture—especially Southwest Indian pottery and baskets.

Saturday Half-Day Trip: Titan Missile Museum and San Xavier Mission—$22

As with Kartchner Caverns, this is mostly underground and you must be physically able to handle 55 stair steps. The Titan Missile Museum is the only remaining Titan II site open to the public, one of what used to be 54 missile silos/complexes across the U.S. Think John Updike and the Cold War. Think Dr. Strangelove. This national historic landmark, originally part of the 571st Strategic Missile Squadron, is the sole remaining Titan II Intercontinental Ballistic Missile (ICBM) complex of 54 that were on alert between 1963-1987. Parts of the Star Trek movie First Contact were filmed at the museum. We will stop at San Xavier Del Bac Mission, which was founded in 1692, with construction of the current church starting in 1783 and completed in 1797. Constructed on land belonging to the Tohono O’odham Nation, it is the oldest intact European structure in Arizona, and the church is filled with original statuary and mural paintings. It is a working church, still used for worship.

For those who don’t go to Titan Missile Museum/Mission: Alternate Saturday Half-Day Trip: U of Ariz. area—$5

Same as Friday’s alternative to Tombstone (see above).

Sunday afternoon Easy Hike: Catalina State Park—$8

The $5 covers transportation. The conference officially ends with the membership meeting, but attendees who don’t fly out until Monday or Tuesday might want to take this nature hike led by our conference co-director, Jan. If you can manage a 1-1.5 mile hike on a easy trail through more iconic Saguaro cacti and a wealth of other local flora (and some fauna), you might enjoy this hike with fellow Updike enthusiasts.

Sunday afternoon Intermediate Hike: Black Sheep Cave—$8

The $5 covers transportation. Be advised that this hike is every bit “intermediate” for experienced hikers and may seem “difficult” for non-hikers or occasional hikers. Total hiking time is 4-4.5 hours. For this one, Jan and her husband Jim say you’ll need good hiking boots, a small daypack to carry two water bottles and a snack, and most certainly collapsible hiking sticks. There’s one steep part near the cave where you’ll need the sticks, both for balance and to give yourself a boost. But the payoff? You get to see an anthropological treasure: centuries old pictographs in an off-the-beaten-path cave that people know about, but which isn’t mapped or marked. Jim will be your guide, and he’s been there several times.

IMPORTANT: Because Tucson is a tourist destination, day trips are not guaranteed and may be limited. The earlier you reserve space, the better your chances. Refunds will be given if we cannot accommodate you.
